My Last Yugoslavian Document

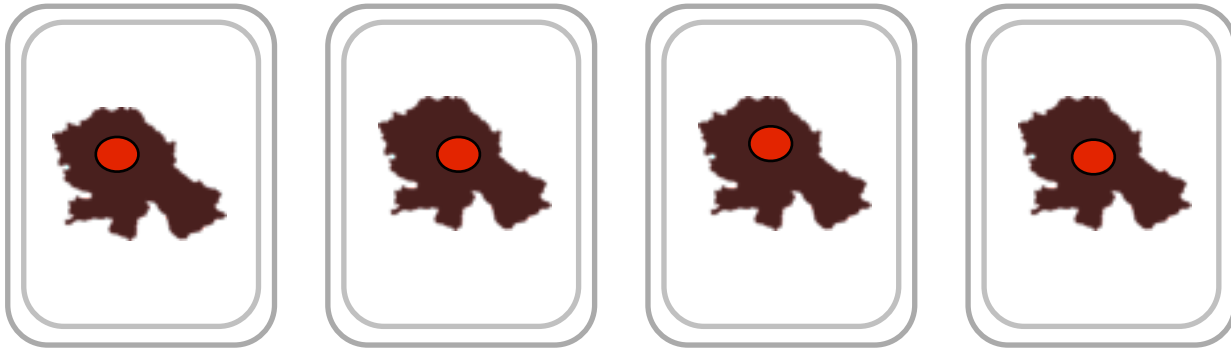

YURO

YU/RO is a project that contains a series of self-questioning works determined by apparently false animosity between the ethnic and the national identity.

This is not a cake

The friction between legal and cultural determination of one self in shaping one's identity only deepens the confusion lived between what you are identified as (a Romanian in Serbia - a Serb in Romania) and how you identify yourself (a Serb with no Serbian cultural identification or a Romanian with no provided Romanian legal determination).
